

Cookies policy

The following explains how Insurance Database Services Limited ("IDSL") uses non-intrusive cookies on this website. Continued use of this website implies your (or a user of your computer's) ("you") acceptance of this Cookies Policy.

A 'cookie' is information that a website transfers to and stores on the hard drive of your device so that it can remember something about you at a later time. A 'cookie' recognises you when you return to this website. IDSL may collect information by 'cookies' about your device including the IP address, operating system and browser type. This information is used to improve the use of this website, to track visitor use of this website and to compile statistical reports on website activity. For further information visit www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

IDSL uses the following cookies:

- Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of this website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of this website.
- Analytical/performance cookies. These cookies allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around this website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.
- Functionality cookies. These cookies are used to recognise you when you return to this website. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region, and High Visibility setting).

IDSL uses the following individual 'cookies':

- [JSESSIONID] - Strictly necessary cookie. This implements user security and expires at end of session.
- [rememberMe] - Functionality cookie. This is used the next time user goes to login page and expires 1 year after creation.
- [_ga] – Analytical cookie. This is Google Analytics and expires 2 years after creation.
- [_gat_UA-51236330-3] - Analytical cookie. This is Google Analytics and expires 10 minutes after creation.

Google Analytics collects generic information to see how visitors use this website. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to this website, what websites visitors have come from and the pages they visited. IDSL uses this information to compile reports and help us improve this website.

Such information may be transferred and or accessed by third party motor insurance organisations.

Please note that third parties (including, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies, over which we have no control. These cookies are likely to be analytical/performance cookies or targeting cookies.

How to refuse to accept cookies

At any time you may refuse to accept cookies on this website by activating the setting on your browser which allows you to refuse the setting of cookies. Information on deleting or controlling cookies is available at www.AboutCookies.org. By deleting cookies in this manner, you will also disable IDSL's cookies that control the High Visibility settings of your browser. If you refuse to accept cookies, you may be unable to access all or certain parts of this website.
